1. OUR PATRON SAINT

Thomas, also known by his Greek name Didymos, started his life as Jewish fisherman on the shores of Lake Galilee in Palestine, in the beginning of the Christian era. He became one of the twelve disciples of Jesus Christ, known as the Apostles. He died at Mylapore, near Chennai in AD 72. He is revered as a saint by most Christian denominations.

The memory of St. Thomas holds special meaning to the owner of the St. Thomas College of Teacher Education, the community of the Catholic Eparchy of Palai. As part of the larger body of St. Thomas Christians, we respect St. Thomas for bringing the Christian faith to their ancestors. The St. Thomas Christians of Kerala are one of the only two communities in the world who trace the apostolic origins of their faith to St. Thomas.

The biblical verses where St. Thomas says, “Let us also go and die with Him” (John 11: 16) and “Lord, we do not know where you are going and how will we know the way?” (John 14:5) tell us a lot about St. Thomas – his total fearlessness in walking the path of his Master and his utter truthfulness in opening his heart to Him. This propelled him to travel to the distant shores of our country to share the truth which he witnessed.

These qualities of its heavenly patron inspire the College to produce teachers who are guides to generations and beacons of light to the society.

2. OUR MOTTO AND COAT OF ARMS

Our motto 'LUX AD ILLUMINANDUM' means 'LIGHT TO ENLIGHTEN'. The students are expected to become lights to illumine the world and to dispel all sorts of darkness around us.

The 'coat of arms' also embodies the spirit of our motto. The coat of arms is in the shape of a shield which is divided into four quarters, each depicting the development of different aspects of the students' personality.

The lighted lamp symbolises the moral development, the fundamental requisite of any individual, they are expected to become lights of the universe and remove the darkness around us.

The spear and T-square represent our heavenly patron, St. Thomas, the disciple of Jesus Christ who came to this part of the world to spread the word of God. This also signifies the enhancement of spiritual values of our students.

The open book depicts acquisition of knowledge and wisdom and thus stands for the intellectual growth of the students.

The hills, coconut palm and river portray distinctive geographical characteristics of our locale. They also represent the physical development of the students.

The dawn, the rising sun imply the conquest of light over darkness.

15. PRAYER SONG

Lead, Kindly Light, amid the encircling gloom, Lead Thou me on!
The night is dark and I am far from home,
Lead Thou me on.
Keep Thou my feet; I do not ask to see

The distant scene; one step enough for me.
I was not ever thus, nor prayed that Thou Shouldst lead me on;
I loved to choose and see my path, but now
Lead Thou me on;

I loved the garish day; and spite of fears,
Pride ruled my will; remember not past years.
So long Thy power hath blessed me, sure it still Will lead me on,
O'er moor and fen, O'er crag and torrent, till The night is gone;

And with the morn those angel faces smile,
Which I have loved long since, and lost awhile. (Cardinal Newman)

Student Grievance Redressal Guidelines

The grievance of a student will be treated with empathy, and the student will be allowed to express their perspective.

a. Purpose

To establish a transparent and equitable procedure for the reporting and resolution of student grievances.

b. Scope

The grievance process applies to both academic and non-academic student grievances, which may include student complaints of unjust treatment or unlawful discrimination. Caste/gender/social-based discrimination, harassment, mental and physical harassment by authorities, teachers, fellow students, staff, or any form of discrimination (if justice is not received from the existing systems in the institution, students can file a complaint in this cell). These grievance procedures are accessible to any student of the institute who is the victim of an alleged violation that directly affects them, whether it is committed by an institute member acting in an official capacity or as a result of the program's regulations.

c. Student Grievance Redressal Procedure:

The college will ensure that both parties to the grievances are addressed appropriately and that the grievances are substantiated by facts and evidence when resolving the grievances of students who are concerned with any member of the institute acting in an official capacity.

Any common grievance may be submitted directly to this cell or placed in the grievance box, which is conveniently located. The committee responsible for this compartment promptly addresses the complaints and implements the requisite measures.

There are three stages of student grievance redressal:

Stage I : Informal Resolution

The student is expected to make an effort to settle or resolve the grievance directly with the individual(s) involved as soon as possible before instituting the official grievance redressal procedure. The matter should be resolved informally at this stage, and every reasonable endeavour should be made to that end. This dialogue may yield an acceptable result. If not, the student may advance to the second stage of the resolution process.

In order to determine the appropriate individual to address the grievance, students who are uncertain about how to proceed may consult with the instructor responsible for their class. Within five working days of the grievance's occurrence, the student is required to contact the individual concerned.

Stage II: Formal Complaint

If a student grievance is not satisfactorily resolved within 10 working days of communicating the grievance to the relevant individual, students may submit a written complaint to the Dean Student Welfare Officer regarding the grievance. The officer should receive all pertinent information from the student to substantiate the complaint and the efforts made in accordance with stage I of the procedure.

In order to collect information and resolve the issue, the Student Welfare Officer should meet with the complainant and the concerned parties as deemed appropriate.

Stage III : Decision by the Principal

The Principal will make the final decision in consultation with the Student Grievance Redressal Committee after considering the facts and the supporting documents submitted by the Student Welfare Officer. The decision made by the Principal shall be considered as final.

Further Appeal Mechanism

Students can approach the University Appellate Committee/ University Appellate Tribunal on the decision of the Cell of the College.
