REPORT OF WEBINAR TITLED "REFLECTION ON 21ST CENTURY EDUCATION AND TEACHERS IN INDIA AND NIGERIA"

On May 27th, 2021, St. Thomas College of Teacher Education Pala convened a webinar entitled "Reflection on 21st Century Education and Teachers in India and Nigeria". Esteemed scholars, Dr. T.C. Thankachan, Principal of St. Thomas College, and Dr. Patrick Eke Eya, Deputy Vice-Chancellor Academic of the National Open University of Nigeria, served as the program's Resource Persons. The hour-long session (12.00 p.m. – 1.00 p.m.) provided a forum for the exploration of the challenges and opportunities confronting educators in both India and Nigeria.

The program offered a unique chance for all faculty members and teacher education students to gain a comparative perspective on educational practices in India and Nigeria. The exchange of ideas between the Resource Persons and the audience centered on effective pedagogical methodologies, curriculum development strategies, and the paramount importance of fostering critical thinking and fostering a spirit of innovation within the student body. The program enriched the understanding of 21st century education for all participants.
