Strength: she is a student of normal intelligence
very punctual and obedient.

Weakness: Being slightly disabled she is less confident.

Opportunities: Parents are very supportive and financially sound.

Threat: left side of the girls is little weak. Hence the speed is little low.

17/11/21: I talked to Aleena. Being slightly disabled she is less confident. The left side of the body is weak. So walking speed is slow. She was little afraid of social acceptance in the class room.
She was physically weak, a bit slow and speaks with a low voice and her conversation was not clear. She was self conscious and worried about not being able to keep up with her peers both physically and socially. I told her that I want you to know that your value is not defined by your physical strength. You have unique qualities and a kind heart, which are what truly matter.
I am here to support you. She was happy and more confident, realizing her worth beyond her physical attributes.

7/1/22 : when I spoke to her the second time she was happy and felt more confident, and the bridge course had been effective in helping her feel more included and capable. I also talked her about doing self study courses and encouraged her to use the facilities in the library for additional support.

13/6/22 . In the third session I congratulated her on her good at hand writing and neat record work. she shared her difficulties with managing time for self-study courses along with her other subjects. We discussed strategies to help her balance her work load more effectively.

8/2/23 : During the time of the practical exam Aleena was struggling. I consoled her and offered my support, reminding her of her strengths and encouraging her to keep going in spite of the challenges.

Strength : Hardworking, intelligent.

Weakness : Allergy problems.

Opportunities : supportive family.

Threat : lack of good job opportunities.

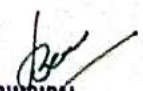

17/11/21 : As the house is far from the college she is struggling with travelling daily. She also had financial and health problems. She was suffering from severe headache and back pain. I offered her hostel facility. But she was not ready to stay in hostel because she has to take tuition.

7/2/22 : Because there is a compulsion to do everything well, she was always tensed. But she handled everything beautifully. I kept reminding her about doing self study courses, but she was not able to do it because of lack of time. She was tired when she reached home after a long journey.

12/7/22 : During teaching practice time she had done everything beautifully. So I appreciated her. Her students loved her. She paid special attention to every child in the class. She was the top scorer in the class in the I & II sem.

16/1/23 : This time we discussed about her health problems. She was worried about the camp and tour programme. I encouraged her and advised about the need for positive thinking.

Opportunities: Intelligent and hard working.

Challenges: Tensed and quick in decisions & actions.

16/4/21: Josna is confident and ~~was~~ is quick to get things done. She always wanted to be at the top of the class. She liked to be the leader of the class.

9/2/22: During microteaching session she came to me to share her tension. She was tensed because of the corrections and feedback received during microteaching. She had a slight stutter when speaking. I advised her to see a speech therapist.

14/7/22: During Vacation she met a speech therapist and there was improvement in her speaking style. Still she had a tension related to taking class. I understood that it upset her when others got more attention and recognition. We talked about this and she came into self awareness.

2/2/23: Now she shows more mature behaviour. She is very friendly with everyone in college. Clearing the SET exam boosted her confidence.
